

התאטרון The Theater

The project offers a different organization of the theater structure. By expanding the performance space, it aims to facilitate meetings between the audience and the creators.

The Theater project is located in Park HaHorshot at the intersection of Kibbutz Galuyot and Shoken streets. The project aims to transform the theater building from a typologically segregated linear structure (comprising Front of House, House and Back of House) to a non-linear flexible structure whose various parts are defined according to the performance taking place. The project combines the formal theater structure with the dynamic (empty) approach. The sequence of spaces offered by the interweaved building parts and the reconnection of the halls back to the outside Invite the artists to create and develop a variety of performances. The environment, an inherent part of the building, can be used and 'play a role' in the performances when needed. The project's urban development focuses on linking Park HaHorshot to Tel-Aviv and Jaffa while emphasizing the differences and uniqueness characterizing the area.
